

Tell Your Story!

VideoVoice Training for Youth

Tuesday, July 30-Thursdays, August 1, 2013

What is VideoVoice Mapping?

VideoVoice Mapping is a social justice and digital storytelling tool for youth and community residents to use to document on film community needs and priorities for change.

Lunch & Childcare provided.

To RSVP or for more information,
contact MariaJose Diaz (661) 900-0380, diazm526@gmail.com or Tony Dang (510) 507-4943

What Keeps You From Walking?

Asthma?

Gangs or Graffiti?

Drug dealers, drunks?

Fast traffic?

Agressive, loose dogs?

No shade?

No bus stops? Nowhere to go?

Are safe routes to school, parks, & bus stops important to you? Clean air?

Want to be a partner in community change?

Join California WALKS Youth Leaders, Greenfield Walking Group, and others to learn VideoVoice Mapping with Youtube.

Make videos to tell your story. Film what is needed to make walking easier and safer or to get you where you need to go.

Show your videos to decision makers! Make a difference!

When: July 30-August 1, 2013
